Search: use TAFEcatal to search all the resources of TAFE Libraries – books, DVDs, eResources, magazines or any other format.

There are search tips to show you how, previews of new resources, and details of how to get things sent from other TAFE Libraries.

Search Library FAQs or ask a Librarian online to answer anything you want to know about using your Library service; or give feedback and suggestions.

Explore: all the things your campus Library can offer you, including opening hours, information skills sessions, wifi, computers, printing & copying, AV equipment and more.

Explore what’s been happening; such as events and displays, and what’s coming up; through past and current mosslib fliers.

Online and Print magazines:

Australian Book Review (ABR) is Australia’s premier literary review. Created in 1961 and based in Melbourne and Adelaide, it publishes reviews, essays, commentaries and creative writing.

ABR is a lively general magazine for students and staff with an interest in literature as well as the arts including film, television, opera, music, theatre and the visual arts.

It is ideal for the TPC student studying Australian authors and poets, as well as film and television (see the reviews on the Cloudstreet book and miniseries). Also valuable for the child care student with reviews and commentaries on Australian children’s picture books.

While not all content is freely available, this magazine with its national scope, is well worth a look.

To access and read online, simply click on the Tertiary Preparation Certificate (TPC) online subject guide link in the Web Links for this Page on the left hand side.

Recent Events and Displays:

Australia’s Biggest Morning Tea 2015

The Library once again hosted what has become one of the top events on campus - Australia’s Biggest Morning Tea in aid of the Cancer Council. Students and staff from all faculties mingled and munched together. The caterers (Library staff and volunteers) worked non-stop and kept the tasty tidbits flowing to match the keen appetites. It was so popular that it overflowed to the next day for those who couldn’t make it.

Special thank you to Therese Bird, Moss Vale Campus Canteen, and Allan Goodger, for their donations of sandwiches and scones and to Jacqui Turner for her help on the day.

Horticulture Teacher Di Ellis coordinated a Guessing Competition for National Tree Day. The varied specimens of branches and blossom had everyone keenly researching and it was Helen Ward who was first out with the correct answers. She received her award at a special morning Tea in the Library. This has become another popular Library tradition—have a go next time!

Agriculture, Business and the Environment
Outstanding Student Achievement Award
Jo Albany, one of the Indigenous Land management students at Moss Vale Campus, received the Agribusiness and Environment Student Award for 2014. Jo was unable to attend the awards night this year at Wollongong Campus, so we held a mini-award ceremony and lunch for her and her classmates at the library on Thursday, 13 August. The award was presented by Errolyn Strang, Special Programs Coordinator.

Get comfy together.
Don’t stay stuck behind a desk all day, try out our new furniture. We now have a couple of areas to get social, work or chill.
